Laughter segment

It's Saint Patrick's Day and an armed hooded robber bursts into the Bank of Ireland forcing the tellers to load a sack full of cash. On his way out the door with the loot one brave Irish customer grabs the hood and pulls it off revealing the robber's face.

The robber shoots the man without hesitation.

He then looks around the bank to see if anyone else has seen him. One of the tellers is looking straight at him and the robber walks over and calmly shoots him dead.

Everyone by now is very scared and looking down at the floor.

"Did anyone else see my face?" screams the robber.

There is a few moments of silence then one elderly Irish gent, looking down, tentatively raises his hand and says, "I think me wife here may have caught a glimpse."

Archie Gerzee

This year our club lost two colourful characters in Dave and Archie.

Dave a life member of our club and was treasurer over many years, a great story teller a guy who loved the Club and Ipswich, helped wherever he could.

One of the funniest days I had with Dave was at an action at Southside where Dave was bidding on his own material. Betty was trying to stop him bidding he said it's alright Betty I had a look its' got some good material in it.

The look on his face when the runner delivered the lot was priceless. He turned to Betty quick as a flash and said see I told you it had good material in it.
A quit trip home that day.

Archie loved the club and behind the scenes did a lot for the Club. Mounting our framed "In Appreciation Certificates", soaking, sorting and packing stamps for many hours and days. Archie was also a great story teller, travelled the world working and site seeing. His life adventures led Archie to write two books which were self-published.

Two larrikins, great guys our Club and Ipswich will be the poorer in their passing.
Rest in Peace.

JUST FOR A LAUGH

Just before the funeral services, the undertaker came up to the very elderly widow and asked,
'How old was your husband?'
'98,' she replied, 'Two years older than me'
'So you're 96,' the undertaker commented.
She responded 'Hardly worth going home, is it?'

Bill walks into a post office one day to see a middle-aged man standing at the counter enthusiastically writing addresses on bright pink envelopes covered with hearts. He then takes out a scent bottle and starts spraying perfume over them. Bill's curiosity gets the better of him and he walks over to the man and asks him what he's doing.

"I'm sending out 1,000 Valentine's Day cards signed, 'Guess who?'" says the man.
"Why on earth are you doing that?" asks Bill.
"Because I'm a divorce lawyer." replies the man.

A Banjo enthusiasts joke:

Johnny proudly drove his new VW Beetle convertible into town and had his shiny banjo nestling in the back seat.

He had walked half way around the block from the parked car when he realised that the sunny weather had prompted him to leave the hood down... with his banjo in the back.

He ran all the way back to his car, but it was too late... another five banjos had been dumped in the car.

Three men died on Christmas Eve, and were met by Saint Peter at the pearly gates.

"In honour of this holy season" Saint Peter said, "You must each possess something that symbolizes Christmas to get into heaven"

The first man fumbled through his pockets and pulled out a lighter. He flicked it on. "It represents a candle", he said

"You may pass through the pearly gates", Saint Peter said.

The second man reached into his pocket and pulled out a set of keys.

He shook them and said, "They're Bells".

Saint Peter said, "You may pass through the pearly gates".

The third man started searching desperately through his pockets and finally pulled out a pair of women's panties. Saint Peter looked at the man with a raised eyebrow and asked, "And just what do these symbolize?"

The man replied, "These are Carol's."

A sweet little girl is out in the back garden, digging a big deep hole.

A neighbour looks over the fence and says:

"Why are you digging that big deep hole?"

"My goldfish died," the sweet little girl says, with a sob.

"I'm really sorry to hear that," the neighbour says,

"but why such a big deep hole for a goldfish?"

The little girl gives him an evil look. "Because it's inside your cat."

The Year to Date

With Ruth and I being away for over a month, we would like to thank all those who filled the gaps and held the fort. This has been very much appreciated.

Our Annual Stamp Fair is very fast approaching (Sunday 3rd November) with setting up on Saturday 2nd November at 1.30pm. We will as in previous years, need many willing volunteers to help with the setting up.

This year your club will be hosting the Club Challenge at the fair and all clubs are invited to enter. This is a one frame (15 sheets) from your club members or by at least three members of your club showing what your members collect.
